DRIVE FOR VICTORY BONDS TO START

District Organization Will Make Thorough Canvass of Every Citizen.

Monday night, Messrs. J.W. Wyatt, H.W. Love, F.S. Johnstone, Rev. C.G. Hockin and J.G. Clark attended the organization meeting for the Victory Loan held at Wainwright. The hall was well filled with delegates from all parts of the district and plans were discussed for organizing the district to put on the sale of the Victory Loan Bonds. J.W. Wood, district organizer, answered many questions. Committees were organized for each district and the Irma committee arranged for a meeting Thursday afternoon with a view of arranging for entertainments and meetings to further the cause. Arrangements are being made to bring some speakers and a dance or some form of entertainment will be arranged shortly.

Timely Warning May Prevent Fires

Though rather late in the season for this year, a word of warning for the seasons to come, may not be amiss, to those who have threshing done on their premises. Be particular to look out for any fire which may have been left by the threshing engine, as neglect to do so, may prove very costly.

Within half an hour of the time the threshers had left the place, every available hand on the farm of Wm. E. Walker, was fighting fire in a furious wind, which providentially was blowing away from the straw-stack and buildings. Two hours hard work, with the help of James Kennedy and son who were most fortunately there, and of John McNaughton, who most kindly rushed to render his assistance, got the fire put out but had it been as often the case, that all the men had moved to the next threshing place, they must have fared badly without sufficient help, and had the wind been blowing from the north or northwest nothing could have saved the buildings and newly threshed grain. So keep a close watch for FIRE.

Irma to Have Chautauqua Next Fall

Miss Lewis, the representative of the Chautauqua system was here Tuesday arranging for a Chautauqua at Irma next fall.

Chautauqua Justified

We have heard many expressions of satisfaction from those who had the pleasure of hearing Miss Ada L. Ward's lecture here during the chautauqua programs last week. It may be of interest to learn that Miss Ward offered the Ellison-White Dominion chautauqua management $1000 if they would cancel her contract with them from now until Christmas as she had a more lucrative offer from a circuit that only takes in the large cities. When one realizes the fact that the large cities want her exclusively as a lecturer, the value of chautauqua in bringing recognized talent to the small town like Viking is perhaps more appreciated, because it was only through an organization like chautauqua that Miss Ward would have ever appeared here to lecture.—Viking News.

Why Canada Needs More Money

UP to date the war has cost Canada about $700,000,000.

Canada has spent in Canada over $400,000,000 on her own account.

Canada has spent in Canada on behalf of Great Britain over $300,000,000.

What Canada spends for Great Britain is really loaned to Great Britain and will be repaid or credited to Canada later on.

Great Britain needs so much ready cash to finance her own expenditures at home for herself and for our Allies that she must buy on credit from Canada, and from every other country where she can get credit.

Of course Great Britain's credit is so good that other countries, in order to get her trade, are quite as willing to give her credit as we are in Canada.

Canada wants to help Great Britain not only because Canada wants Britain's trade but because we are Canada and she is Great Britain—both members of the same great Empire, kin of our kin, our motherland.

For Canada it is both a filial and patriotic duty to supply Great Britain's war needs and remember, her needs are our needs. Also it is in Canada's self-interest to supply those needs and thus keep open a market for our products.

Now, Britain needs our wheat, our cheese, cattle, hogs, and many manufactured articles.

Canada also needs many of these things—between the two it amounts to more than a million dollars a day in cash.

And the producers must be paid in cash.

Neither Canada nor Great Britain could go to a Canadian farmer and buy his wheat or his cattle on credit.

The farmer and all other producers might be ever so willing to give their country credit but they could not do it because they have to pay cash for wages, for rent, materials, etc. They must be paid in cash, or its equivalent.

So Canada says to Great Britain—"I will lend you the money so that you can pay cash to Canada's producers for what you want.

"I will borrow this money from our own people just as you borrow money from your people.

"I will also borrow from the people of Canada money to pay cash for all the products that Canada, as well as Great Britain, needs in Canada."

That is Canada's practical, patriotic part in helping to win the war.

Without this credit the Canadian producer could not sell to Great Britain, and without these Canadian products the war would be prolonged.

So it is necessary for Canada to give to Great Britain the credit in order that Canada's own producers, who need a market, will have one; and in order that Great Britain which needs the products to win the war, will get them.

Now how does Canada get the money by which both Canada and Britain can pay cash for Canada's products?

By borrowing it from the people of Canada through the sale of Canada's Victory Bonds to be offered in November.

That is why Canada's Victory Bonds are offered to the people—to raise money to help to finish the war.

"Canada must keep her shoulder to the wheel even though it be a chariot of fire," and the way for Canada to keep her shoulder to the wheel is by buying

"Yes, you haven't done my hair at all lately," she said, in patronizing tones. "I dare say you will work in to my ways in time; you will need to be told a lot, and, of course, you are still quite raw and new."

Meg was well aware that there was nothing raw in the becoming fashion in which she had manipulated Connie's hair, but she only said so hoping to do her work exactly as her mistress wished, and then she happily slipped away to Betty's room.

"Has Connie been here, you mean?" the young lady asked. "Oh! you needn't tell me; I know it. I know Connie. I've known her all my life. She went away from me in a tearing temper, and she has been sending you. That's Connie's way."

"Perhaps I ought to tell you, too, miss," Meg answered, "but I don't think you ought to talk to me like that about your sister. It is not right or kind; and I don't think I ought to listen to you when you say such things."

"Now I like you for saying that to me," she said. "Lots of girls would have been flattered at my talking to them at all about my sister; and most girls would have been catty enough to like to hear her abused, after she had been hostile to them. You're different. You like you for being so straight with me. You aren't a bit of a cat, and you play fair. I like that, and I'm glad you jived me for what I said. I know I'm a beast about Connie, but—"

"Never mind about why you're a beast," Meg broke in quickly, "and her low, delicious laugh, and I didn't mean to jaw you as you put it, only it didn't seem quite loyal of you to talk like that about your sister, or quite fair of me to listen to it. Don't you think I never never to explain why one feels unkind about any special person? Explanations only emphasize the unkindness and make it stick in one's mind."

"I like that idea," Betty said eagerly. "Explaining why you feel unkind really gets it out of you, and an unkind remark edgeways, doesn't it? Whist! you are explaining your own reasons for feeling unkind to me, somebody, you are enlarging on their faults and failings, too. You are rather wise. And I'm engaged to be married, so plucky and standing up for me. I believe you're a kind of Pippa," she added suddenly, laughing at Meg's mystified expression.

"Ah! you haven't read 'Pippa Passes' yet. Never mind the details, they are unimportant at this moment, and I'll lend you the poem. But Pippa was just a darling little bit of a girl, nobody particularly rich or great or beautiful—just a little girl who was good. And where ever she went she carried with her an atmosphere of goodness. She couldn't help it; it was part of her. It went with her. Wherever she passed people were the better for her passing. I think I shall call you Pippa."

"But I'm not in the least like the girl you describe," Meg protested; "and don't you think you had better dress, miss? You haven't told me which dress you want to wear, and I should like to try and do your hair a new way."

"To greet my prospective brother-in-law? Oh! of course, you don't know about him yet. Connie came upstairs bursting with the news. She is just engaged to Mr. Marstead, the millionaire; she is as happy as a queen!"

Meg made a suitable rejoinder, but through her heart there went a sharp and unaccountable stab of regret. It seemed to her that the man with the honest blue eyes and kindly smile was throwing himself away upon the lovely, insolent girl she had just dressed; she felt that she was being used for him. She found herself wishing that fate had treated him more kindly. Then with an effort she put the thought from her, and listened to Betty's chatter about the probability of a grand wedding, and the prospective merits of Geoffrey Marstead as a brother-in-law. Half an hour later, as she was walking along the corridor in the direction of the servants' quarters, a door on her right opened, and Marstead himself almost ran against her, pulling up with a quick apology, and then recognizing her as his travelling companion.

"I am glad to see you again," he said, eagerly, glancing at her white apron and neat black gown as though they gave him a little shock of surprise. "We had such a jolly little talk on the train, and now I should like you to congratulate me. The best thing in the world has happened to me. I'm engaged to Miss Tredegar, and I feel as if I had won the most glorious woman on earth. Am I not lucky? Tell me, you think I am a lucky chap."

There was something boyish and direct in his speech, and even then Meg, and his face was so brimming over with happiness that she put her hands to him impulsively, forgetting their relative positions in the eager interest of the moment.

Hear With Their Eyes

Training of Deaf Children Is Little Short of Miraculous

Among the twelve hundred pupils of the Parker School, one of Chicago's largest public schools, there are more than a hundred children, ranging in age from five to fifteen years who have never heard the sound of a human voice. Yet to distinguish these children from their more fortunate fellows because of any imperfection in their speech or their inability to understand the speech of others would be a difficult task. Although born deaf, they have been taught to speak almost as well as hearing children, while their skill in reading the lips of a speaker is little short of miraculous.

If you should go to the Parker School any fine morning you would probably see on the broad lawn in front of the school various groups of children at play under the watchful eyes of their teachers. But it is not they that attract your attention, but the teacher or one another; all are comparing the chances are that some of these children are among the hundreds who have never known the blessed privilege of hearing.

Entering the school, you might go from room to room, and not discover for quite a while anything peculiar in the manner of instructing certain of the classes. But in some of them you will find the same little tots, who cannot hear, that you passed on the lawn. If their organs of sight have been turned away from the visitor, upon his entrance, their attention is not attracted, since their organs of sight have to perform the duty of the useless ears. Should they see the new-comer, however, they will smile warmly, then direct their gaze once more to the lips of their teacher. It is this concentration of gaze which is the physical handicap. All the knowledge they receive must come through the sense of sight.

Harems of Mohammeds a Puzzle

If Solomon were running his justice shop today he could do the French government a good turn by turning it into a harem. The French Colonial troops and many of them have sizeable harems. The French province of Indochina, a French soldier is entitled to a pension. So the war office is trying to reach a basis for splitting the harems.

He drew a long breath, and pushing back his chair, rose and paced the room. He felt that he needed very physical exertion to act as a safety valve to thought. "Now that she is better, have just dropped back again into her dreamy reveries. She has no idea what happened on the night she was attacked by that ruffian, who came to her house. She does not even know she mistook me for the man she loved before. And yet—she thought she showed me her real self might be; if one could only get through the ice again. That night made me sure she is the woman I want, out of all the women in the world. She showed me her real self, and the real Leslie is something very different from the Leslie who has built herself up within an ice wall. But I can't ever make her want me as I want her." At that moment, his thoughts were brought to an abrupt conclusion by the opening of his companion's door and the entrance of his parlor maid.

"A gentleman wishes to speak to you, sir," she said. "I told him that we were not your consulting hours, but he says he must see you, even if it is only for a few minutes."

"If his business is important, he must come in, Miller," Thornton answered, glancing at the writing table and the forlorn sheet of paper which was awaiting that article on tuberculosis. "Tell him that I am very busy, and can only spare him a few minutes." The maid disappeared, and after a short colloquy with some one in the hall outside, she reopened the door and announced, "Mr. Matthew Drake," ushering in a tall man who was a total stranger to the doctor.

Care of Blankets

Here is a satisfactory way of washing blankets: Slice half a cake of washing soap into two quarts of water. Set on the stove and stir until dissolved, add cold water in a large tub. To this soapy water add four table spoons of powdered borax. Soak the blankets in this overnight. Then wash them in this water, rinse them twice in cold water, wring, and hang on the line. This recipe will wash four blankets. Be sure and use only cold water and they will come out as soft and beautiful as new. A teaspoonful of glycerine, added to the rinsing water, will improve them.

The Pariahs of the People

The war moves forward to its inevitable conclusion, and even the included subjects of the Kaiser cannot imagine that such cowardly acts as have been committed by their army in this country and France will deflect the allies from their purpose, while they will certainly constitute the German pariahs of the peoples of the world in the dark days of peace which will follow.

Food Conservation in U. S.

German Propagandists Have to Be Contended With

"That our enemies on the other side of the fence are fighting our plan, is one of the best recommendations that can be made, and to the value of Food Pledge Week is the fact that the pro-Germans here have recognized its importance and are fighting it hard."

This statement is made by Dr. R. L. Wilbur, president of Stanford University and head of the food conservation division of the United States food administration while discussing the antagonism of the pro-German propaganda to the coming campaign to line up the American people in the interests of food conservation.

Evidences of this statement, Dr. Wilbur declares, are brought to light daily from all parts of the country and in the most subtle ways.

"If you sign the Pledge Card, your home will be invaded later and the goods you have canned will be taken away," "It is a trick of the government, whose officials will requisition all your preserves." Among the colored people of the south the pro-German propaganda has been circulating a rumor that the intention is to take food away from the negroes and give it to the whites. Even the pro-German baker employee has been charged with doing his bit for the Kaiser by burning the bread in his charge.

Dr. Wilbur believes that attacks like these can be easily overcome, once a group of fighting American women like up and insist on food conservation. "Their chief influence," he concludes, "is to show that the pro-German propaganda realize as well as we do, that a huge American 'Food Conservation Army' will be the biggest thing in American history, and will test whether or not a democratic people can organize themselves sufficiently to prove their firm of government worth fighting."

Was It the Cow's Fault?

Milk and Feed Record Forms to Help the Dairyman

Supposing that you keep a cow giving five thousand pounds of milk a year, for which you receive seventy dollars cash, how much profit does that cow make? This is not a riddle, but simply a query that every dairyman should be in a position to answer. Leaving aside the "higher accounting" side of revenue and expenses per cow—those persistent items of rent, interest, taxes, depreciation, etc.—and taking only income from milk or fat, and cost of feed, are you then in a position to say definitely that each cow you keep does make a good clear profit above feed cost?

Whether the feed is valued at forty or eighty dollars, there is such profit that a fair return is made to you for the labor expended. For if revenue and expense just balance showing no margin of profit at all, there must surely be something wrong; your labor has to be paid for.

Milk and feed record forms may be had free of charge from the Dairy Commissioner, Ottawa, so that the profit made by each cow may be ascertained. Perhaps some cows would show profit if fed better, some won't. Many men in all provinces on the cow testing register at Ottawa show dirty and sixty dollars clear profit per cow above feed cost. You may have made more than that; if you made less, was it entirely the cow's fault?

They're Trouble-Makers

The czar of Russia is married to a German woman, who is said to have wept at every German defeat. He lost his throne. The king of Greece was married to a German woman, to whose influence is credited the ignoble part of Greece in the early stages of the war which cost Constantine his throne. The king of Sweden is married to a German woman, in whom is credited the part which Sweden has been playing in serving the Kaiser. Next?—From the Buffalo Express.

Not a Fussy Beau Rummell

A lady wrote a horrified letter to the newspapers that she actually saw Lloyd George in Cockspur street with a crack right across his left boot. The newspaper claims that Lloyd George is very quick on his feet and that leather nowadays is a teacher's fabric; furthermore that Lloyd George never had any klanings towards Canadians.

A Valuable Official

He Keeps Cranks From the Mayor's Office

Before a visitor gets to Mayor Mitchell's office, or to the office of his secretary, Theodore Rousseau, he must see Police Lieutenant William Kennel, the most thoroughly established character about the city hall. Mayors and mayors' secretaries come and go. So do visitors. But not so Kennel. For more than twenty years and through seven administrations, ranging all the way from Tammany to reform, his cold, light blue eyes has given the "once over" to callers on the city father. He can spot a crank as far as he can see one, can judge almost on sight whether he is dangerous or not, and can dispose of harmless ones gently and dangerous ones with promptness and efficiency.

"We had two of those birds this week," he said to me when I made some inquiry about the subject. "The king of England called this morning, just for a friendly little chat. A harmless fellow he was, but harmless. And Tuesday we had the little old lady that owns all the street cars on Broadway. She's been in before—likes to come around and watch her cars keep by. She says she doesn't care about making money, out of 'em, nor how much people use 'em, so long as the motormen don't forget to bring 'em back at night. She doesn't like to have her cars left lying around."

Kennel at the city hall, Mayor Gaynor died as the result of a bullet wound, and Mitchell's life has been attempted.—Collier's Weekly.

Grain Shipped by Pacific Route

According to press reports a great shipment of grain, consisting of 100,000 bushels, is being made to the United Kingdom from Vancouver, British Columbia, in the steamer, War Viceroy. The consignment amounts to about eighty carloads of Western Canada's wheat, and amounts to over 3,000 tons. Should this test shipment be successful, large portion of the grain of the Prairie Provinces will probably be moved by this route in the future.

A sidelight on the resourcefulness of the Japanese mind to improve upon the American inventor has shed out of some correspondence that has been published in England. Huns Fire Messages Through Barrage

Only Method Left Them to Keep in Communication With Their Lines

The French artillery barrage fire has now been perfected to such a degree of density and intensity, that the Germans, in order to keep in communication with the lines back of the barrage have been forced to adopt the expedient of enclosing their messages in a glass jar, or a shell and firing it through the barrage.

In the early part of the war the Germans used the system of running back field telephones from the advancing troops. When these lines were constantly cut by shell fire, efforts were made to run the lines underground. But here again the French, high explosive shells were developed to a degree where the lines could not be conveniently buried at a depth beyond their reach.

Wireless telegraphs have since been tried by the Germans, together with low flying airplanes, while the use of individual runners has almost been abandoned. The most recent method is to run back through a barrage with messages came likewise to prove both costly from the point of view of the individual runner, and of the time to the eventual arrival of the message.

Germany's new system of endeavoring to shoot between the lines with trench mortars and trench cannons has only recently been hit upon. The Germans, or really the Huns, which the messages are enclosed are referred to in the German orders as "Nachrichtengeschosse," or message shells for messages.

The "Melde Wurfgranate" or projectile carrying bombs, are fired from the 196 model of mechanical trench grenade throwers. This has a range of about 600 yards and is counted upon for maintaining communication between the first line and the commanders of battalions and regiments, who under the German system, always remain at the rear of the advancing and fighting troops.

The second class used, the "Lohche Nachrichtengranate," or message-carrying shells are to be fired from the "Minenwerfer," or trench mortar for firing torpedoes. These have a range of about 1,300 yards, and with them the Germans hope to keep up their communications through the French barrage fire between the battalion and regimental commanders in the rear of the advancing troops and the trench mortar and trench cannons in the quarters still farther to the rear.

According to the German orders that have been found the distribution of these message-carrying grenades and shells to the troops on the western front began about June 1.

The sergeant-major accompanied the young officer on his round in the course of which the cook house was inspected. Pointing to a large copper of water, the sergeant-major said to the officer: "Why does that water only boil round the edges of the copper and not in the centre?"

"The water round the edge, sir," replied the veteran, "is for the men on guard; they can get a drink of it half an hour before the remainder of the company."—Tit-Bits.

One amounted to $3,000 and was made to a farmer living in the vicinity of Regina, Saskatchewan, on a thirty-year term at 6 1/2 per cent. interest, and the year's payment will be $229.74. The check for this loan and for another amounting to $1,700 were the first to be mailed. The act came into force on May 1 and 1,400 applications for loans, totalling $2,000,000, have been received since that date. Of this amount about $375,000 has been recommended already. The smallest loan recommended so far is for $300 and the largest for $10,000, which has been recommended.

The act provides for the lending of money to agriculturists on the security of first mortgage on farm lands, and the money may be expended on the improvement or development of the property, or to meet liabilities previously incurred for these purposes, or with the approval of the board, for the acquisition of land. Loans must not exceed fifty per cent. of the board's valuation of the property offered as security, and are repayable on annual instalments. The rate of interest is fixed by the board, which consists of a commissioner and two other members with headquarters at Regina, Saskatchewan.

An Enormous Gull

When the country is being combated for money, when everybody from childhood to old age is importuned to save money and to loan to the government for war purposes, it seems an enormity of gull that money by the millions should be diverted from the common store, the common cause, to swell the fortunes of private and corporate avarice. Agricultural Training

Winter Agricultural Courses Liked by Farm Lads

A large enrollment of students is expected at the College of Agriculture of the University of Saskatchewan this year. Greater interest is being shown in the associate course than has ever been shown before, and parents seem to be making a special effort to get their boys of 16 and 18 years old into this course. It gives farm lads five months of practical training during the winter months, beginning after the harvest work has been completed, and ending just before the spring work begins. Similar courses are being conducted with much success in Alberta and Manitoba, and are proving very popular with farm lads.

War-time Prosperity

After two and one-half years of warfare Canada is this year buying 100,000 motor cars—almost five times as many as were purchased during 1914 and an increase of 83 per cent. over the normal for 1913 and 1914.

A PERFECT MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Baby's Own Tablets are a perfect medicine for little ones. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, thus drive out constipation, indigestion, break up colds and simple fevers and make teaching easy. Concerning them, Mrs. John Babin, Brest, N.B., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets and have found them a perfect medicine for little ones. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Trash Makes Fires

Every Accumulation of Trash Is a Constant Menace

A pile of trash that has been lying around all season is usually as dry as tinder. A spark and a little breeze will start a fire. A spark, however, is not always necessary. There is such a thing as spontaneous combustion. Lots of people don't realize that inanimate objects can set themselves on fire. A lump of sodium dropped into a pan of water bursts into flame in a few seconds. Common household waste makes when it comes in contact with moisture, and wet lime has been the cause of the burning of many a lumber yard.

In piles of trash or old rags, a process of decay sets in that, under certain conditions, is quite likely to produce heating, and sometimes fire. Greasy or oily rags are especially susceptible to this process. Every pile of trash and every accumulation of old clothes or rags, whether in the attic, the cellar or the yard, is a constant menace to the home—city Engineering.

Profit on Hogs

Another instance of the profitability of hogs in Alberta is afforded by the case of a farmer of St. Albert, Alberta, who recently sent to market 79 hogs to Edmonton stockyards for sale. The net amount received, after paying all expenses, was $3,398.70, which works out at an average price of $42.53. The initial cost and cost of raising them is estimated at $1,500, or about $20 per hog, so that the profit per hog was $22.53.

CLIMBED STAIRS ON HER HANDS

Too Ill to Walk Upright. Operation Advised. Saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This woman now raises chickens and does housework. Read her story: "Richmond, Ind. 'For two years I was so sick and weak with troubles from my age that when going up stairs I had to go very slowly with my hands on the steps, then down at the top to rest. The doctor said I should have an operation, and my friends thought I would live to move into our new house. My daughter asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had taken it with good results. I gave it a trial, and moved into our new home, did all kinds of garden work, shovelled dirt, did building and cement work and raised hundreds of chickens and ducks. I don't see any more in the world of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If these facts are useful you may publish them for the benefit of other women who are suffering from similar troubles. I am, Dear Sir, your obedient servant, Mrs. J. M. Box 100, Richmond, Ind."

The Gift of Sleep

Has Been Asset of Many Great Soldiers

It is curious to reflect that the safety of the empire hinges in a measure upon the ability of one man to sleep well. Our military operations are to a large extent directed by General Sir William Robertson and his physical well-being, he tells us, depends upon his being able to retire early from work in order to rise betimes from bed. The gift of sleep has been an asset of many great soldiers. Napoleon likened his own mind to a series of compartments, each the receptacle of a certain project. One after another he closed them, and at night he shut down the last and instantly slept. Gladstone declared himself to sleep well his one notable faculty, but he had to cease thinking at 10 o'clock at night, "otherwise I should go mad," he added. Wellington could sleep anywhere, even in the face of the enemy. With his foes advancing he would say, "Call me when they reach such and such a point." Then rolling himself in his cloak would forthwith snooze. Livy shows Hannibal to have been similarly blest. He could abstain for days and nights at need from rest, sit in a moment of leisure, lie down on a rock and sleep like a dormouse.—London Daily Chronicle.

Murder on the High Seas

A U.S. Consul on the U-Boat Bar

Wesley Frost, for some years the consul of the United States at Queenstown, Ireland, was entertaining a party of his friends, "ten thousand men, women and children have been killed by German submarines."

"Every month sees losses equal to those of the Lusitania horror," he said. "The German U-boats are killing from two to three vessels each fighting for breath. The ocean south of Ireland is the most crowded highway of commerce in the world. On a fine day I have seen merchant ships in all directions like a vast parade. As at Queenstown, the German U-boats have been three years ended last June. I reported to our government upon the destruction by submarines of our fellow-felows from two to three vessels each fighting for breath. CANADA'S NEW WAR LOAN

There is now offered to the Canadian People a new issue of Bonds that shall be known as CANADA'S "VICTORY" LOAN. These Bonds will be issued in such denominations and upon such terms that every patriotic citizen will have an opportunity to assist the Government by lending his money upon the security of a Canadian Government Bond.

It is essential to the success of the war and to the support of our gallant troops that these loans shall not only be subscribed, but over-subscribed. No one is asked to donate or give his money to the Government, but everyone is asked to loan his money to the Government. The loans will be repaid in full with interest at the rate of 5 1/2 per cent per annum.

A Government Bond is the safest investment in the world; it is, on one hand, as good as currency, and, on the other hand, better. It is as good as currency because it is backed by the unconditional faith and credit of the Dominion of Canada, just as currency is. It is better than currency because the Government Bond bears interest and currency does not. No other investment compares with it for safety, ready convertibility into cash and unquestioned availability as collateral security for loans in any bank in the Dominion of Canada.

People are constantly asking the question how they can help the Government in this war. Through the purchase of Victory Bonds every one can help. No more patriotic duty can be performed by those who cannot fight upon the field of battle than to furnish the Government with the necessary money to enable it to give our brave soldiers all that they require to make them strong for the fight and capable of winning a swift victory over our enemies.

We fight, first of all, for Canada's vital rights, for the rights of the Empire, a right to live unmolested, a right to the unobstructed use of the High Seas, so that the surplus products of our farms, our mines and our factories may be carried into the harbors of every friendly nation in the world. Our welfare and prosperity as a people, depend upon our right of peaceful intercourse with all the nations of the earth. To abandon these rights upon the order of a military despot in Europe would destroy prosperity and bring disaster and humiliation upon the British Empire and the Canadian people.

We fight to protect our citizens against assassination and murder upon the High Seas while in the peaceful exercise of those rights demanded by International Law and by every instinct and dictate of humanity.

We fight to preserve our democratic institutions and our sovereignty as a nation against the menace of a powerful and ruthless military autocracy headed by the German Kaiser whose ambition is to dominate the World.

We fight, also for the noble ideal of universal democracy and liberty, the right of the smallest and weakest nations equally with the most powerful, to live and govern themselves according to the will of their own people.

We fight for peace, for that just and lasting peace which agonized and tortured humanity craves, and which not the sword nor the bayonet of a military despot, but the supremacy of vindicated right alone can restore to a distracted world.

To secure these ends, an appeal is made to every man and woman who resides upon the soil of free Canada and who enjoys the blessings of our priceless liberties, to join the league of Patriotic Citizens chasing a VICTORY BOND.

Conference to Discuss Boy Problem

A conference of more than ordinary interest will be held in the City of Edmonton November 15-18. This conference known as "The Fall Drive of the Allies for Boys" has to do with the work of the churches among boys. It is one of a series of 22 such conferences being held from coast to coast throughout Canada this fall. Practically every Protestant Church situated in Northern Alberta will participate in the conference at Edmonton. It is 'one place at least where all the churches will unite in an honest effort to solve the boy problem. Not merely will the churches unite to solve this problem but they have already united and the work being done in this united effort is appreciated by the boys who are participating. In the larger centres the boy organisations are well to the fore and due to the success that is being achieved in these centres a conference is being called that the work may be spread farther afield. Some facts regarding it might be appreciated by those interested.

Delegates shall be men interested in Boys Work, and boys of the age of 15 years and over.

A registration fee of $1.00 is the only conference fee chargeable. Convention rates on all railroads are being arranged.

Delegates will be entertained free for lodging and breakfasts in the City of Edmonton homes.

All delegates must be registered and forms for this purpose can be secured from Rev. W. E. Galloway Box 1090 Edmonton or by applying to your minister who will be furnished with supplies.

The conference shall be divided into two parts (a) for men (b) for boys. The men's conference shall commence on the evening of the 15th of November and end on the evening of the 16th. The boy's conference will commence on the evening of the 16th and end on the evening of the 17th. On Sunday the 18th there will be a grand rally of all the convention forces in one of the largest churches in the city. The Y.M.C.A. is extending special privileges for visiting delegates and the Men's sessions will be held in the Y.M.C.A. building. For the other conference sessions, the convocation Hall and gymnasium of the University are being used as well as several of the largest churches of the city.

October 24th, 1917.

To all Chairmen and Secretaries, Alberta Locals, United Grain Growers, Limited.

Dear Sirs:

Re Annual Meeting.
In reference to the official notice of the annual meeting which has been forwarded to you under date of October 20th, 1917, calling the annual meeting of the Company for Wednesday, November 21st, 1917, we beg to inform you that the meeting is for the delegates of the Alberta Farmers' Co-Operative Elevator Company, Limited, only, and that each Local as now constituted, representing, as it does, the shareholders of the Alberta Farmers' Co-Operative Elevator Co., Ltd., of record at your Local, will be entitled to representation by two delegates at this meeting.

The meeting on November 21st, 1917, must not in any way be confused with the United Grain Growers, Ltd. It is the final meeting of the delegates representing the Alberta Farmers' Co-Operative Elevator Company, Ltd. only, and it is the business and reports of this latter Company which will be considered by the delegates.

The first meeting of the delegates representing United Grain Growers, Ltd., cannot be held until the Spring of 1918 at the very earliest, owing to the work necessary in organizing the old Grain Growers' shareholders into Locals, and the meeting may not be held until the Fall of 1918, as the Directors may decide.

Single men and widowers without children eligible for the draft have ten more days to register for service or claim exemption at the nearest post-office.

Buying a Victory Bond is better than buying a green back. The green back draws no interest, but the bond pays 5 1/2 percent and will be backed by the best of property backed by over eight million people. The big drive starts November 15th and lasts three weeks.

The city of Minneapolis, Minn., raised $25,000,000 in ten days for the Liberty Loan now being floated in the U.S. A big war tank was placed in the principal street and with every million dollars subscribed to the loan it was moved a block. When the last block was reached an effigy of the Kaiser was placed in the way of the tank and was run over and crushed while a great multitude cheered.

The duty of the military representative in connection with the military tribunal is to see that men who are holding back from going to the postoffice to fulfill the duties called for in the proclamation do their duty. They are expected to consider the cases of men who have applied for exemption. They are supplied with a list of names and addresses of those claiming exemption, and who will make their claim at the tribunal where the representative is on duty. The representative will obtain all information and facts bearing on each individual case of the exemption claimants, to see if they are fair and just claims, and within the requirements of the military service act. His duty will also be to cooperate with the local tribunal in giving them reliable information they may require.

I stand for increasing the pay of our boys in the trenches, and everything material or otherwise that we can do toward repaying the debt of gratitude we owe them for the great sacrifices they have made. Equal pensions to all and adequate support for their dependents, which must be continued, especially to the widows of our brave men who have given their lives in France and Flanders. We must also make special provision for the soldiers' orphans who are unable to provide for themselves.

An Honorary President of the United Farmers of Alberta, and after a lifetime of effort to advance agricultural interests, I sincerely appreciate the fact that the Western Liberals have incorporated so many of the Organized Farmers demands in their platform, and shall take pleasure in doing everything in my power to have them embodied in the laws of our country. I also endorse the remaining parts of the platform put out by the Dominion Council of Agriculture, and if I am elected, will use all reasonable means to champion the interest of the farmers of Canada, thereby promoting the best interests of the whole of the people of Canada.

Will Class One Provide The One Hundred Thousand Men?

It will be greatly to the advantage of Canada if the entire quota of 100,000 men to be raised under the Military Service Act can be secured from the first class; that is, from the men between the ages of 20 and 34 who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6th, 1917.

This is almost self-evident for the following reasons:

It is admitted that, between the ages of 20 and 34, the average man is at the height of his physical strength and is most adaptable to the changes of conditions from civilian life; the military service of unmarried men and widowers without children would occasion less distress than that of most others, since they are largely without dependents. Also, it would entail less financial burden for Canada, through separation allowances, etc.

Authorities estimate that, after all proper exemptions have been allowed, Canada should be able to produce from the first class 100,000 men fit for service, so the drain upon the man power of the country will not be severe.

Members of Class One will be well advised to present themselves for examination immediately to the Medical Board in their district. Upon examination as to their physical fitness, they will be placed in one of the following categories:

Category A—if fit for service in overseas fighting units.
Category B—if fit for service overseas in Army Medical Corps, Forestry Battalion, etc.
Category C—if fit for service in Canada only.
Category E—if unfit for military service of any nature.

If not placed in Category A, the applicant will know that he is not liable for immediate service, but will go to the Post Office and send in a claim for exemption with his Medical Certificate attached, when he will receive in due course a certificate of exemption until those in his medical category are summoned for service.

Where a man, who is placed in category A, feels that exemption should be allowed, an application form can be secured from the postmaster. This form, when filled in, will be forwarded by the postmaster to the register of the district, and the applicant will be informed by mail as to the time and place for the consideration of his application by the Exemption Board.

Issued by The Military Service Council.

A Tribute From The U. S.

Again it is our friends and allies from across the northern border who have smashed the German line. Lena again is the centre of the fighting on the western front, and the Canadians have taken the dominating hill 70 by storm and are within the beleaguered French city at last, driving out the invader. We cannot but take a personal pride in the valor and achievements of our brothers across Canada. Many of our own sons fight shoulder to shoulder with them. All typify the spirit of America. Where honor calls, they are the first to respond. The post of danger and the test of skill are theirs by choice—Buffalo Commercial.

Minard's Liniment Cures Distemper.

While walking along the Under den Linden, an American operatic singer, met among the crowd, a lady whom she had not seen for some time and at once, out of joy at seeing her friend began to express her pleasure in English. The words were overheard by a German woman, who immediately raised her umbrella and brought it down heavily on the singer's head. When the lady turned to look at her assailant, it became clear that she recognized her not as an English lady, but as an American, and in a loud voice she cried, "Gott strafe die Vereinigten Staaten," adding also in German, "They have betrayed us!"

How Much Salt?

Rules to Follow in Giving Salt to Cows

Some men seem to think a cow doesn't need any salt, others go to the other extreme and load her down with it, while a third faction strikes a happy medium and are boundedly right. True feed and water carry some mineral matter but not enough. For the dry cow about five ounces per week of salt per week of milk would be sufficient. For the milking cow about four ounces per week of milk would be sufficient. For the milking cow about four ounces per week of milk would be sufficient. For the milking cow about four ounces per week of milk would be sufficient.

Encouraging the drinking of a large amount of water by feeding excess salt has no advantage and may even do harm. If the cows are allowed free access to a continuous salt supply they will use an ample amount but still do themselves no injury through overeating.

Saving Labor Expense

Using Mechanical Drivers for Saving Labor on the Farm Is a Good Economy

One of the after features of the European war is bound to be a dearth of ordinary labor. This is going to reflect itself on all lines of business, perhaps particularly in the business of farming. It is quite essential, therefore, that the farmer should study out the places in his business where manual labor now bears the heaviest burden and see if by chance this burden cannot be reduced. The very apex of the labor load in the grain district of the west comes at threshing time. This is true of both house and field labor. The farmer has solved the extra labor for the home problem by the cook or the larger farms extending the use of the cook car throughout the harvest season as well as during threshing.

The field labor problem has not been so well solved. The number of men required around the modern threshing machine has not greatly changed during the past twenty-five years. The ultimate solution of diversification and live stock raising is still far away. The immediate problem is to cut the sharp corners and get along with the labor as we can. How about handling the grain from the machine to the elevator?

It is sufficient to say that nineteen out of twenty of this work is still done by hand and the back-breaking work of shovelling is going on just as our fathers did over us. Now there is nothing commendable about hard work in and of itself. Suppose the reader and his hired man are reaping wheat and the threshing machine is doing the work. The man employed at a charge of at least $10 per day for the average harvest season means about $300 per year. Suppose that one of these teams and one of the men could be relieved it would not merely save $15 per year, but it is the shovelling work done by a portable elevator which takes off most of the hard manual labor, which is a very considerable item whether one is hiring help or whether one does the work himself. It might be worth while for the farmer trying to rid himself of one of the laboring teams to consider the use of an elevator, which both for speed and certainty of action is far ahead of the old Armstrong machine—Farm, Stock and Home.

On Face, Badly Disfigured. Used 2 Boxes Ointment and 3 Cakes Soap.

"I had a bad itchy lot of pimples on my face which made it badly disfigured. They were inflamed and came to a head, and I could tear my skin as soon as a little heat came near them. I could hardly sleep.

"When I saw Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertised I sent for a free sample which I received in a few days. I bought more, and I used two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and three cakes of Cuticura Soap when I was healed." (Signed) Miss Bertha Nelson, Stockholm, Sask.

The Kaiser Is the Whole Business in Kaiserland

Ever since 1640 and particularly since 1713, the people of Prussia have lived under a rigorous discipline and have been ruled by their principal duty consists in worshipping their ruler, in obeying implicitly his commands, in paying their taxes, and in paying their taxes. Even now the German ruler is sacred, his commands are sacred, his Deity. God takes merely the second place in the German scheme of state. That may be seen from the fact that, while there have been no prosecutions for lese-majeste in Germany, there are very few for blasphemy. Besides, while, according to the German penal code, blasphemy, a verbal insult offered to God, is punishable with imprisonment for one day to three years, simple lese-majeste, a verbal insult offered to ruler, is punishable with imprisonment for one month to five years. The difference is characteristic and highly significant.—Ellis Baker in The Nineteenth Century.

WEAK BOYS AND GIRLS

It is a mistake to think that anaemia is only a girl's complaint. Girls are not the most delicate of creatures, but they are more likely to be weak, pale, and nervous than boys. They are more likely to be weak, pale, and nervous than boys. They are more likely to be weak, pale, and nervous than boys. They are more likely to be weak, pale, and nervous than boys.

To prevent serious disaster to both boys and girls be given the new rich blood tonic, Williams' Pink Pills are famous the world over for making. When giving these pills to a child, be sure to give them with food and how the languid girl or the weak boy becomes full of activity and high spirits. Remember that the boy has to develop, too, if he is to make a strong hearty man. Give both the boys and girls a fair chance to develop strongly through the new, rich blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make. You will then see active boys and girls instead of weakly children around you.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be obtained by mail at $1.00 a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

It Costs Something

Every line in a newspaper, costs the proprietor something. If it is for the benefit of the individual it should be paid for. If the grocer were asked to contribute groceries to one abundantly able to pay for them, he would refuse. The proprietor of a newspaper must pay for the free advertising if it is to be the hardest thing to be learned by many, that a newspaper has space in its columns to rent and must rent them to live. To give away rent for anything less than living rates is as fatal to a newspaper as for a landlord to furnish rent free.

Torpedo "Deflectors"
Amazing stories are afloat of a discovery, which makes a torpedo leap over the vessel it is aimed at. Naturally they are not true. But the navy keeps up its old plan of putting the pirates from speedy destroyers, or netting them with steel mines. A new torpedo has been developed the whereabouts of the U-boats also works well.

Keep Only the Best Cows

The Profitable Cow Must Give 5,000 Pounds of Milk a Year
James Berg, of Southwood, writes in the Canadian Countryman: "With regard to profit from cows at the present price of milk, I figure that at $1.80 per hundred, to leave a margin of profit, should at the very lowest, give 5,000 pounds per 100 cows, or 50,000 pounds. It is a lot better, and there is no reason why it cannot be done.

The whole keynote of the cow question is the scrub-built, whether he be pedigreed or not. A few dollars are nothing; get one whose ancestors have made good and you will soon pass the 5,000 pound mark. Set your mind on the 10,000 pound cow and makes up your mind to learn how to feed. This type of cow wants good feed the year round, whether she be milking or dry.

"I never bought but one thin cow in my experience. It took me six months to get any heart in her, and the milk was in the wane. The next year, however, she was one of my best.

"When your cows are to make good, count on the cost of the feed at the very least at $75 per year, and more if the cow will pay for it. I have no difficulty in making my two-year-olds cost 7,000 pounds, and my mature cows 10,000 pounds, and my cubs 15,000 pounds.

"Get a set of scales and a weigh sheet. It will not take a minute or 30 seconds to weigh and let down the weight. Then use the Babcock and you will be surprised to see how soon you will get the good ones.

"Bred cows are the good ones and do not forget the bull question—first last and all the time."

Cataract Cannot be Cured

Meat Shortage in Britain
Declining Sale of Prices on Live-stock Expected to Relieve the Condition

The extent of England's present meat shortage is shown in the summary of the most recent passing through Smithfield market, England's great distributing centre, received by the United States food administration. The total July receipts amounted to 20,802 tons, as compared with 23,924 tons in the same month of 1914. The decline in the sale of live stock is expected to relieve this condition. The price of live stock for September is $17.76 per 100 pounds, for October $17.28, for November $16.88, and for January $14.40.

It was expected that this decreasing ratio of prices will bring out the cattle ready for market immediately. The shortage of fodder in Holland is also expected to put upon the market a considerable supply of meat from that country. Large numbers of the Holland cattle will probably be either exported or slaughtered.

No better protection against worms can be got than Miller's Worm Powders. They consume worms and render the stomach and intestines unhabitable to them. They keep the child healthy and free from the attacks of the parasites and serve to restore the strength and vigor of the child.

Cuban Aviators Going to France

Will Receive Training at Pensacola, Florida
Col. Manuel Coronado, member of the Cuban senate and editor of the newspaper "La Discusion," has organized an aviation unit which will be offered to France, with complete equipment, in the near future. The unit will be called, will probably be the first body of fighting men from Cuba to serve on French soil.

Thirty-three youths, representatives of the best families of Cuba, have volunteered to take the preliminary aviation course, and individually to bear the expense of their uniforms and equipment. Senator Coronado has asked the navy department in Washington for an arrangement by which the Cuban aviators may undergo their preliminary training at the navy aviation school at Pensacola, Fla.

Admonishing Stable Help Kindness and Gentleness are Essential at All Times

Every conscientious dairyman knows from experience how difficult it is to rule his hired help, men who at all times will treat his animals with consideration. The dairy cow has been called a machine—and in a very true sense she is such. But a cow cannot be treated like a machine. She is a bundle of nerves. The disturbance of her nervous equilibrium upsets her production. For this reason harsh treatment has no place in the dairy stable. Kindness and gentleness are essential at all times. Years ago a certain dairyman put up a printed notice in his stable urging his men to practice patience with his animals. The sign is still there preening its little sermon to the men who come and go on this particular farm. It reads as follows:

"The rule to be observed in this stable at all times towards the cattle, young and old, is that of patience and kindness. A man's usefulness in a herd ceases at once when he loses his temper and bestows rough usage. Men must be patient. Cattle are not reasoning beings. Remember that the cow is a creature of God. Treat each cow as a mother should be treated. The giving of milk is a function of motherhood, rough treatment lessens the flow. That injures her as well as the cow. Always keep these ideas in mind in dealing with my cattle."—C. C. C. Successful Farming.

British Columbia Timber Almost Unlimited Supply Available for Lumber and Pulp

British Columbia mills have a possible output of 2,500,000,000 feet per annum of lumber, according to an estimate made by the Victoria Colonist. Pulp and paper mills are fully in swing will be able to supplement the products of the east and probably increase their supply. The Pacific was handled from British Columbia ports, notwithstanding the natural resources of this province, which are greater than all the States to the south. The figures, therefore, show that British Columbia, which is a power to supply the flow of the demand, is as yet only a small minority in actual trade.

Reason Enough
An English militant crusader entered in her campaign work a dairy barn where a young man was milking a cow. With a snort she asked: "How is it that you aren't at the front, young man?" answered the milkman, "there ain't no milk at that end."

We give one dollar in trade for every twenty dollars of our cash register checks which you return to us. This is a very substantial reduction and well worth taking advantage of.

Our advices from manufacturers all tell the same tale this week. Prices on many household commodities are about to soar again. The 1917 sugar crop was poor and a committee representing Great Britain and the United States has taken control of the sugar market. Sugar prices to the consumer may be fixed, but products containing sugar are bound to cost more as sugar becomes scarcer. Tea, baking powders, canned vegetables are also going up. Our stock of goods at present prices is not large, by buying now you'll save from 10 per cent to 25 per cent later on.
